WELCOME TO SUCCESS FIELD

SMASHING QUARTER

Roger Smith
 President & CEO
 American Income Life & National Income Life

A Smashing Quarter

Have you ever watched a baseball game and wondered how it would feel to hit a home run? The roar of a crowd, the cheer of teammates, a rush of excitement so invigorating you feel ten feet off the ground.

Well, you've done it. You've hit a home run! Never in the history of AIL/NILICO have I, or anyone, seen production numbers this high. I've got to tell you, you really smashed the ball out of the park.

With the amazing team effort from our Sales Force, PR Force and Home Office, we produced over $13 Million in ALP, bringing us to $30 Million for the first quarter. Our team is living proof AIL/NILCO is truly an Opportunity Unlimited.

Though we had a great inning, we must not lose sight of the rest of the game. We must not become too comfortable and let valuable opportunities pass by. We need to keep our adrenaline pumping and continue to work as efficiently and effectively as we did the first quarter.

I encourage you to celebrate your hard work and success thus far and use that excitement to fuel you for the months ahead. Let this great accomplishment challenge you as we embark on the next quarter.

I'm anxious to see where our next hit will take us.

Batter on deck!

SGA Career Track

Whether you are new to our company or even someone with tenure, have you ever wondered what you had to accomplish in order to be promoted to State General Agent? The answer is simple—achieve these three levels.

If you have any questions, please feel free to set up a conference call with me and your State General Agent. I look forward to seeing you achieve your dream of financial security!

— Larry Strong

DEAR FUTURE SGA

Level 1: Qualifying

For you to qualify you must meet the following criteria:

- 2 years of continual service with AIL/NILICO
- Production of at least $225,000 of 1st Six Mo. Agent production (Last 12 Months)
- Must have a 4-Month Retention Rate of 68% or higher (Please note that although you need to qualify to be promoted, we will begin the process as soon as you achieve the production level regardless of quality factor.)

Level 2: Preparing for an Offer

Once you qualify by achieving the above criteria, a letter of eligibility will be sent to your home address with a copy to your SGA. Also, we will schedule a conference call between you, your SGA, your SGA's Director, and myself to determine your interest in being a SGA and to initiate a consistent communication process between you, your SGA and the Home Office.

Level 3: Getting an Offer

I will contact you to:

- Let you know what territory/territories we are offering
- Discuss who will be replacing you and what one person you will be taking with you. (Your SGA can protect one person who they feel they need to keep.) This process has been in place since January 2008, resulting in 11 SGA promotions, and there will be many more.

■ Outlook

Rob Falvo

Field Operations

Emotional Commitment

As I reflect back on the 1st Quarter of 2009 and the fantastic results we achieved in both sales and recruiting, I think about the emotional commitment made by those of you leading this company. Those of us in any type of leadership role need an emotional commitment to the importance of what we're doing and to the people with whom we are doing it.

There are basically five different reasons why nothing great was ever accomplished without an emotional commitment.

First, no great success is ever attained in anyone's life without the surmounting of obstacles.

Secondly, without the motivation that comes with commitment and enthusiasm, we'll never dig deep enough to discover and develop all the talents we have. These talents are what can lead us to the greatest accomplishments of which we are ultimately capable.

The third reason is that great success requires great risk. It doesn't come cheap — there are risks involved. Sometimes it takes financial risk or social risk. Occasionally, it's physical risk. And always, emotional risk. We need to be willing to try things we have never tried before, maybe even things nobody else tried before. We can't always play it safe if we want to play to win in life.

The fourth reason why a strong emotional commitment is typically necessary for greatness is that without it, we can easily be tempted to settle for nothing more than a basic, minimal competence in what we do. The world most often seems to be filled with plain old incompetence, punctuated here and there by a somewhat higher state of mediocrity.

The fifth reason is that no great success was ever attained alone. No one in this life ever accomplishes anything worthwhile flying completely solo from start to finish. Satisfying success is always in some way a social product and a result of people working together. Whatever our dream is and whatever our goals are, we cannot do it alone.

We did not come into this world to do it alone. We were created to journey toward personal fulfillment with other people. But unless other people are attracted to us and our goals, we can find ourselves going it alone far too much of the time.

What will attract others to our company and our vision?
Simple: Energy, Enthusiasm & Passion.

Look at our emotional commitment to the importance of what we are doing and our emotional commitment to other people. People are attracted to people who care about them. People help people they care about. As long as what we care about is truly worth our care, our commitment of emotional energy will attract and hold both the attention and assistance of the people around us — people who will help us attain our goals and people who will accompany us on our journey of success.

If it's worth doing, we can't do it alone. But if it's worth doing, it's worth caring about.

And if we care deeply enough about what we are doing, our commitment will be contagious, and we won't be doing it alone. That's as close to a guarantee as we have.

Each of us has a lot to give to this world while we're here, and the world has a great deal to give back to us in return. But none of this will happen the way it should unless we embark on an exciting journey of success. This should involve, first of all, an inner exploration, then an outer adventure. As we look around us in this great world, one of the strongest temptations in life is to become so fascinated by the things we see that we forget to develop who we are.

Our journey must start from within. We each need to develop through the setting and seeking of goals which we find are important to us. That we need! And as we shoot for these goals, we should always seek to deploy our talents into the world for the good of others as well as for ourselves. For only in this way will we attain our highest levels of success.

As we move forward on our journey to $250 Million of Net ALP, let's remember the words of Marcel Proust: "We don't receive wisdom; we must discover it for ourselves after a journey that no one can take for us or spare us."

PR Training School

Denise Bowyer and I spent our spring break teaching school — a four-day PR School held in McKinney, Texas. The class consisted of new students from all across North America.

This was a unique experience for everyone involved. Our agenda for the school was designed to illustrate the vision and opportunity that lay ahead of them, and it gave them the tools they need to become successful in Public Relations. We touched on several topics, but primarily focused on the field training.

The atmosphere was one of high energy, and excitement. Many bonds were formed. Everyone left energized and ready to get started on their new career.

After a week of school, they all went home to their respective areas and spent another week in the field with their managers or directors. I can't tell you how exciting it is to have 34 brand new representatives in the field in the same week. The initial results seem good — there were groups signed, boards set, and events planned. The second week brought more of the same results.

To grow the PR Team, we will continue to focus on hiring and providing a solid training program, one that empowers new representatives to embrace what we offer and create new superstars for the future.

That's what we did on our spring break. What did you do for yours?

PR Director of the Quarter

Daryl Barnett increased the card count in the areas he directs by 12,673 cards the first quarter of 2009. Daryl attributes the increase to his belief in his team and their constant searching for new markets and new opportunities. Of course you would also have to attribute it to his leadership skills and the team environment he creates.

Smashing Records

What a start to 2009!

No doubt you're aware of the records being set for our 2009 sales. The first quarter was our first ever $30M Net ALP quarter, and the month of March was the top sales month in the history of American Income Life, topping the $13M mark for the first time! We also have set records this year by contracting over 700 new agents in the month of March and surpassing 3,500 agents at the end of the month.

We held a contest for the SGA body in March, challenging them to top their best month of 2008, and 35 of 63 State General Agents did just that.

On the PR side, we had our first company-run Public Relations Training School, and 34 brand new people and are now out in the field. It has moved the total Public Relations count to nearly 190, also an all-time high for the company. We are on pace to sign over 20% more organizations to mail with us in 2009 too.

Our company commitment to profitability has been displayed through all-time high levels of reinstatement activity, while a soon-to-be-released automated laptop presentation emphasizing a true needs-based sale has the potential to change how we write business, increase our closing percentage and improve the retention of our business.

The work of the Home Office truly bears commitment to a team oriented environment. Everyone in the field take note that when a new production record is set, it is the employees of the Home Office who whoop it up first! Their commitment to the field is also a big factor to why we're hitting these records.

Here is another item you may not realize. Do you know how powerful you really are? Yes, you. You're so powerful that even in the worst of economic times with the highest levels of unemployment in decades, you can get anyone, anywhere, a job in the United States, Canada, or New Zealand. That's special.

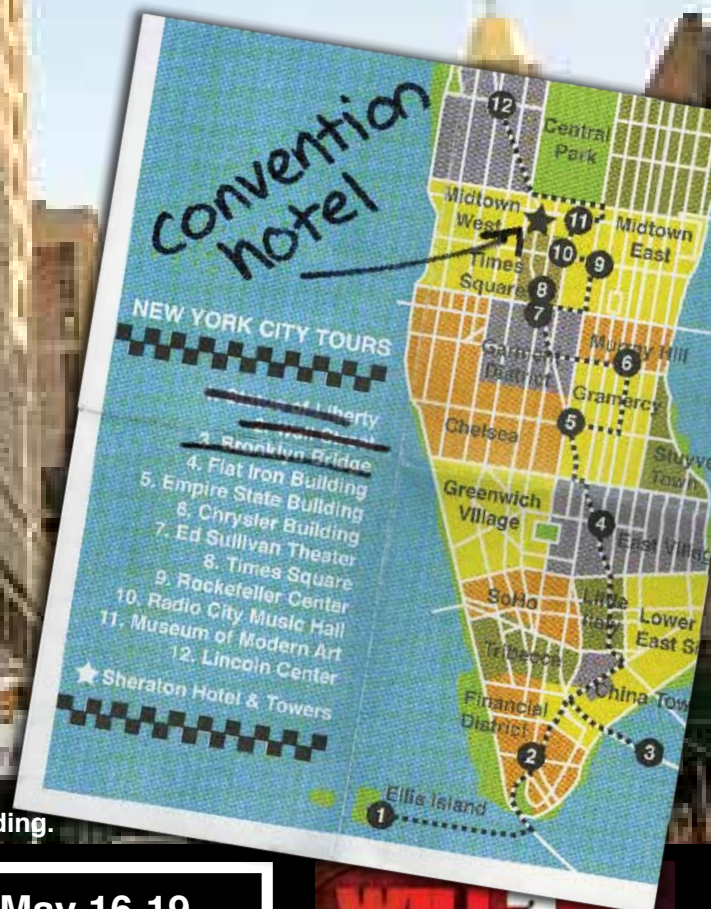

As you read this, the SGAs will be concluding their spring meeting in Cancun, Mexico, and next month the 2009 Convention will be like none other, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills with a Three Dog Night concert thrown in! To the victors go the spoils.

Lots of fun stuff — records being set, positive motivating environments created, and an appropriate amount of time being spent on investing in the future. Anything short of this would be called failure. But this is success.

Be Proud. You're a part of it.

The phrase “23 Skiddoo,” meaning scram, is said to have originated here on 23rd street. Fierce winds that whipped around this triangular building ruffled ladies’ skirts and got Police Officers telling loiterers to “23 Skiddoo!”
